- been reduced, or
 - not been paid when due, or
 - not been paid as a result of a contribution holiday, or
 - a Contract has been cancelled, or paid up for any other reason.
- 4.1.2 Any delay or failure on Phoenix Wealth's part in informing the Firm shall not affect the liability of the Firm to repay any Remuneration which may become recoverable as a result of non-payment or reduction of contribution.
- 4.1.3 Phoenix Wealth shall use all its reasonable endeavours to ensure that the Firm's account with Phoenix Wealth and the Contract introduced on behalf of its Clients shall be administered in an efficient and business-like manner. However, the Firm accepts that errors and omissions may occur from time to time. - 4.1.7 Where the Firm is required to make any direct repayment to Phoenix Wealth under Clause 4.1.7, Clause 4.5.3 or any other provision of the Terms of Business, any such repayment shall be due upon notice being given to the Firm. If the Firm fails to make the repayment within 30 days of Phoenix Wealth issuing the notice to the Firm, then the amount of the repayment shall be deemed to be a debt, to which Phoenix Wealth may charge interest at the rate of two percent above Natwest base rate from the date of such formal demand until such time as the repayment is paid in full.
- 4.1.8 Phoenix Wealth shall have the right to offset any sums due to it by the Firm against Remuneration due to the Firm, regardless of when such Remuneration is or was payable (including, for the avoidance of doubt, any sums payable before the Terms of Business came into effect).
- 4.1.9 Phoenix Wealth reserves the right at its absolute discretion to withhold payment of Remuneration to a Firm if in Phoenix Wealth's reasonable opinion it suspects the Firm of fraud or dishonesty.
- 4.1.10 Phoenix Wealth reserves the right to disclose to the Client at any time details of Remuneration and of any other charges in such manner as it thinks fit (in addition to any mandatory disclosure requirements).
- 4.2 Adviser Charge
- The following specific provisions in this Clause 4.2 apply to the payment of any Adviser Charge:
- 4.2.1 All contractual obligations in relation to a personal recommendation are between the Client and the Firm however the Client may request Phoenix Wealth to facilitate payment of the Adviser Charge to the Firm on the Client's behalf by providing a Client Instruction to Phoenix Wealth.
- 4.2.2 In default of Phoenix Wealth receiving a Client Instruction accepting the rate, frequency and duration of the required Adviser Charge, such Business shall be deemed to have been accepted on terms that do not include the facilitation of any Adviser Charge.
- 4.2.3 Facilitation of an Adviser Charge shall be at the discretion of Phoenix Wealth and Phoenix Wealth can refuse to facilitate an Adviser Charge for any reason whatsoever.
- 4.2.4 In order for Phoenix Wealth to consider whether it will facilitate any Adviser Charge, the Firm and the Client must agree to provide Phoenix Wealth with any reasonable information it shall request.
- 4.2.5 The Firm must disclose its charges to the Client and secure the Client's agreement to the level, rate and frequency of the Adviser Charge before obtaining a Client Instruction to authorise Phoenix Wealth to facilitate payment of the Adviser Charge.

- 4.2.6 Subject to Clause 4.2.9 below, Phoenix Wealth will facilitate the Adviser Charge at the rate and frequency contained in the Client Instructions by levying an explicit charge against the particular Client Contract, or by making a one-off payment as appropriate.
- 4.2.7 Phoenix Wealth will only pay the Adviser Charge in accordance with the terms of the Client Instruction and where there are sufficient funds in the Contract or premiums received to allow us to facilitate payment.
- 4.2.8 Phoenix Wealth's Contract charges will be deducted from the value of the Contract before any Adviser Charge is payable.
- 4.2.9 Phoenix Wealth reserves the right to cease facilitating Adviser Charge payments in the following, but not limited to, circumstances if:
- (i) the Firm's authorisation or exempt status referred to in Clause 3.2 ceases or the Firm ceases to hold the appropriate permissions to submit Business
 - (ii) reasonable grounds exist to doubt its fitness to hold such authorisation
 - (iii) the Firm ceases to be the Client's agent for the purposes of the Contract (whether by the initiative of the Client or the Firm)
 - (iv) Phoenix Wealth decides that, in its absolute opinion, the payment becomes contrary to the general principle of investor protection or treating customers fairly. In this circumstance the parties acknowledge that Phoenix Wealth may be required to report to regulatory bodies on the level and scale of charges, but will not take responsibility for assessing the reasonableness of the Adviser Charge
 - (v) the Firm, being an individual, dies, becomes bankrupt, compounds with or assigns his estate or effects for the benefit of creditors, has his goods seized in execution or, where the Firm is a company, the Firm goes into liquidation or receivership or becomes subject to an administration order other than for the purposes of a solvent amalgamation or reconstruction
 - (vi) a Client instructs Phoenix Wealth to cease facilitating payment of the Adviser Charge or
 - (vii) the Contract is terminated, paid up or contributions are reduced for any reason whatsoever.

Notwithstanding all of the above, Phoenix Wealth can cease facilitating an Adviser Charge at any time. Phoenix Wealth will have no liability for outstanding Adviser Charge payments owed by the Client to the Firm.

- 4.2.10 In the event the Client appoints a third party adviser as a replacement to the Firm, at any time, Phoenix Wealth shall cease to facilitate Adviser Charges and shall have no liability for outstanding Adviser Charge payments owed by the Client to the Firm.
- 4.2.11 Where there is a change of adviser firm Phoenix Wealth reserves the right to require a new Client Instruction to facilitate Adviser Charges.

Where either:

- (i) the Firm notifies Phoenix Wealth that the service it provides to the Client is being transferred to a new adviser firm or
- (ii) Phoenix Wealth is notified that the service the Firm provides to the Client has been transferred from a previous adviser firm, and in either circumstance provided that:
 - (a) we are satisfied the Client has been adequately notified of this
 - (b) we have received a signed declaration in the form stipulated by us from time to time
 - (c) our operational processes from time to time for carrying out business transfers have been complied with and
 - (d) we have obtained implied Client consent for the transfer, then Phoenix Wealth will pay any Adviser Charges to the new adviser firm or to the Firm (as the case may be) without the need for a new Client Instruction. Where Phoenix Wealth receives any such notification we will confirm this to the Client and, unless they instruct us otherwise, we will deem this to be their consent to make this change. The change will be deemed to be reflected in the existing Client Instruction.

- 4.2.12 It is the responsibility of the Firm to ensure it is appropriately authorised and has the appropriate permissions to carry out the services in its Contract with the Client and to receive the Adviser Charge facilitated by Phoenix Wealth. Further it is the Firm's responsibility to ensure that the Adviser Charge is in accordance with Relevant Law, including but not limited to, the requirement that any Adviser Charge paid from a pension scheme must be an authorised scheme payment, in accordance with HMRC legislation. In the event of breach of this clause by the Firm, Phoenix Wealth shall not be liable for refunding any Adviser Charge to the Client and the Firm will indemnify Phoenix Wealth against any loss, cost, expense or damages incurred, as a result of the Firm's failure to refund Adviser Charges received in breach of this clause.

- 4.2.13 With the exception of Clause 4.2.14 below, Phoenix Wealth will not be liable for refunding any Adviser Charge to the Client that it has facilitated on the Client's behalf. This is the sole responsibility of the Firm and the Firm will indemnify Phoenix Wealth against any loss, cost, expense or damages incurred as a result of the Firm's failure to refund Adviser Charges.

- 4.2.14 If a Contract is cancelled due to the Client exercising his right to cancel the Contract as described within the FCA Handbook, Phoenix Wealth shall refund to the Client any Adviser Charge facilitated by Phoenix Wealth on its behalf and the Firm shall pay such a corresponding amount to Phoenix Wealth on demand. The Firm will need to settle direct with its Client any amounts still owed by its Client.

- 4.2.15 Where the Client has requested Phoenix Wealth to facilitate payment of Adviser Charges through the Client's Contract, Phoenix Wealth will facilitate the payment of the Adviser Charge in accordance with instructions from the Client. Phoenix Wealth will act as collecting agent for the Firm and Adviser Charges will be held in Phoenix Wealth's corporate account on the Firm's behalf before being transferred to the Firm. The money will become a debt owed by Phoenix Wealth to the Firm, until such time as the money is paid to the Firm. The money is not client money and the Firm shall have no claim against the Client in respect of this money.

- 4.2.16 Unless otherwise agreed, the Adviser Charges collected by Phoenix Wealth will be paid to the Firm once a week for Phoenix Wealth Pension Funds only plans and once a month for Self-invested plans.
- 4.2.17 No interest will be paid on money held by Phoenix Wealth on the Firm's behalf.
- 4.2.18 Save where Phoenix Wealth fails to pay monies owed to the Firm where Phoenix Wealth is acting in its capacity as collecting agent for the Firm, or as a direct result of Phoenix Wealth's negligence, wilful default or fraud in facilitating the payment of Adviser Charges through a Client's Contract, Phoenix Wealth will have no liability for outstanding Adviser Charge payments owed by the Client to the Firm.

4.3 Flexible Adviser Remuneration

For existing payments of Flexible Adviser Remuneration in relation to Legacy Business, the following provisions shall apply:

- 4.3.1 Subject to Clause 4.3.3 below, Phoenix Wealth will continue to levy an explicit charge against the particular Client Contract in respect of which Flexible Adviser Remuneration is paid, (in addition to other applicable charges) consistent with its rate and frequency, and reserves the right to disclose to the Client at any time details of the Flexible Adviser Remuneration and of the corresponding charge in such manner as it thinks fit (in addition to any mandatory disclosure requirements).
- 4.3.2 Pursuant to Clause 4.1, the full amount of any agreed FAR shall only be deemed due and owing to the Firm at the frequency and amount as agreed for that Contract before the RDR Launch Date. Ongoing Flexible Adviser Remuneration will continue to be paid for business introduced before the RDR Launch Date until it ends naturally (because a product matures or is terminated). For the avoidance of doubt where advice results in a new product or increment being purchased Flexible Adviser Remuneration will not be payable in relation to this new product or increment and Adviser Charging will apply in accordance with Clause 4.2.
- 4.3.3 Ongoing Flexible Adviser Remuneration shall be due and owing to the Firm only when the Contract has sufficient value to cover all such charges.
- 4.3.4 Where a shortfall occurs due to regular contributions due under a Contract being discontinued at any time so that the total contributions paid by the Client are less than the sum of:
- (i) Phoenix Wealth's initial charge for setting up the Contract and
 - (ii) the Flexible Adviser Remuneration payable to the Firm
- then no Flexible Adviser Remuneration will be paid to the Firm.
- 4.3.5 If the structure of the Firm's Flexible Adviser Remuneration requires periodic payments to be made, then Phoenix Wealth reserves the right to stop making or redirect those payments if:
- (i) the Firm's authorisation or exempt status referred to in Clause 3.2 ceases or the Firm ceases or is suspended from holding the appropriate permissions to submit Business
 - (ii) reasonable grounds exist to doubt its fitness to hold such authorisation
 - (iii) the Firm ceases to be the Client's agent for the purposes of the Contract (whether by the initiative of the Client or the Firm)
 - (iv) Phoenix Wealth decides that, in its absolute opinion, the payment becomes contrary to the FCA Handbook or the general principle of investor protection or treating customers fairly or
 - (v) the Firm, being an individual, dies, becomes bankrupt, compounds with or assigns his estate or effects for the benefit of creditors, has his goods sized in execution or, where the Firm is a company, the Firm goes into liquidation or receivership or becomes subject to an administration order other than for the purposes of a solvent amalgamation or reconstruction.
- 4.3.6 Where FAR is payable in relation to ongoing advice to the Client, Phoenix Wealth will reserve the right to cease or amend paying Flexible Adviser Remuneration where the Client instructs Phoenix Wealth to do so.
- 4.3.7 If, at the initiative of the Client, the Firm is newly appointed as the agent of the Client in respect of an existing Contract, any existing Flexible Adviser Remuneration arrangements already in force will only be transferred to the Firm if it and the Client confirm in writing that the Flexible Adviser Remuneration shall be passed to the Firm and the Firm ensures that it is entitled to receive Flexible Adviser Remuneration in accordance with the FCA Handbook.
- 4.3.8 It is the responsibility of the Firm to ensure it is appropriately authorised and has the appropriate permissions to introduce Business to Phoenix Wealth and any Flexible Adviser Remuneration paid in respect of Business introduced without authorisation or without the appropriate permissions, and cancelled in exercise of any statutory right shall be repaid to Phoenix Wealth. In the event the Firm is in breach of this Clause it shall repay to Phoenix Wealth any payments made which it was not entitled to receive and shall indemnify Phoenix Wealth against any loss sustained by Phoenix Wealth as a result of such breach of this Clause 4.3.8 or any other breach of the Terms of Business.
- 4.3.9 If any amount is paid in error to the Firm Phoenix Wealth shall be entitled to demand repayment of such amounts from the Firm.

4.4 Funded Initial Commission

In the event that Funded Initial Commission has been paid by Phoenix Wealth in relation to any Legacy Business and deductions against the Contract are ongoing the following provisions in this Clause 4.4 shall apply:

- 4.4.1 Where Funded Initial Commission has been paid in relation to Legacy Business, Phoenix Wealth will continue to levy an explicit charge by way of deductions over a specified period (in addition to any other applicable charges) against the Contract in respect of which Funded Initial Commission has been paid, based on the agreed rate or amount of Funded Initial Commission. Phoenix Wealth reserves the right to disclose to the Client at any time the details of the Funded Initial Commission paid to the Firm and of the corresponding charge in such manner as it thinks fit (in addition to any mandatory disclosure requirements).
- 4.4.2 For the avoidance of doubt no Funded Initial Commission shall be deemed to have been due and owing to the Firm until the first Funded Initial Commission recovery charge has been deducted from the Contract.
- 4.4.3 If such Contract is cancelled or made paid-up for any reason or contributions are reduced and Phoenix Wealth has not yet fully recovered the Funded Initial Commission through the charge levied against the Contract, Phoenix Wealth may recover the outstanding amount from the value of the Contract. If the Contract or any part of the Contract has an insufficient value to cover the outstanding amount or the payment of any outstanding amount would reduce the Contract, or relevant part of the Contract, value to nil Phoenix Wealth may either take the value of the Contract and recover any balance from the Firm or recover the whole outstanding amount from the Firm as follows:
- where Remuneration is credited to the Firm in respect of any other Business introduced by the Firm, Phoenix Wealth shall have the right to offset the balance of the outstanding amount (or any part thereof) against any other Remuneration payments due to the Firm under other Contracts and/or
 - it may request repayment of that amount (or any part thereof) from the Firm directly.
- 4.4.4 In the event that the Firm (the 'Transferor') transfers its clients to another firm (the 'Transferee') the Transferor will remain liable for repayment of Funded Initial Commission under Clause 4.4.3 until such time as Phoenix Wealth receives written confirmation from the Transferee that it will be liable for that repayment. Where such transfer occurs, the Transferee will be liable to Phoenix Wealth retrospectively for the repayment of Funded Initial Commission on the same terms as the Transferor.
- 4.4.5 It is the responsibility of the Firm to ensure it is appropriately authorised and has the appropriate permissions to introduce Business to Phoenix Wealth and any Funded Initial Commission paid in respect of Business introduced without authorisation or without the appropriate permissions, and cancelled in exercise of any statutory right shall be repaid to Phoenix Wealth. The Firm agrees to indemnify Phoenix Wealth against any loss sustained by Phoenix Wealth arising out of Business introduced without authorisation or without the appropriate permissions or as a result of any other breach of the Terms of Business.
